Haphazard, occasional saving seldom accomplishes much. It's the steady, persistent, regular depositing of so many dollars a week, or month, or season, in the Union Bank of Canada, which makes one financially independent. The money accumulates all the more rapidly, too, because of the interest which is added every six months.

Dr. W. V. Dixon of Calgary has bought out the dental practice of Dr. Thos. H. Quirk, who was killed in an auto accident in that city recently, and will continue the business in the former premises.

Miss Hulda Wiegand favored the congregation of the Knox Presbyterian church with a fine solo at the Thanksgiving services on Sunday night last, which was much appreciated by the large congregation present.

Mr. W. Black, who has been clerking in Studer's store for some months, left this week for Saskatchewan, where he has accepted another position. Bill will be missed in Didsbury. He has been one of the main stays in hockey and football circles as well as in church and Sunday School work and he will be greatly missed. However, his many Didsbury friends will wish him all good luck in his new venture.

On Sunday evening, Nov. 3rd, at 7.30 o'clock a Thanksgiving program, consisting of special music and addresses will be rendered in the Evangelical church. An interesting time is anticipated. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Geo. Sexsmith will hold a sale of 23 head of choice Holstein and 15 head of Ayrshire dairy cows on the 21st of November, at Didsbury, at 1 o'clock, for Mr. Duncan McNaughton of Maxwell, Ont. These are a select bunch of dairy stock. Don't miss getting some of them.

Rev. L. Elgin Brough of Heath Baptist church, Calgary, will be the preacher at the Baptist church on Sunday next both morning and evening. Services at 11 and 7.30. Mr. Brough is a preacher of marked ability and a treat is in store for all who have the privilege of hearing him.

Rates and the Cost of Living
A citizen of Western Canada is breakfasting at an Ottawa hotel on bread and butter, bacon, eggs and coffee. The waiter hands him the bill, which is more than it used to be when he was there a few years ago, and, of course, he lays the blame on rail rates.

Let us consider the facts. The rate on flour from Winnipeg to Ottawa in car-load lots, all-rail, is 30 cents per 100 pounds, say 60 cents for a barrel of 194 pounds. Manitoba flour being strong and well-matured, the Ottawa baker is able to make 196 loaves, each weighing 1½ pounds, from a barrel, the addition of water and yeast accounting for the seemingly miraculous increase in the flour. Assuming that our friend eats heartily of bread, we get down to this sum in Rule of Three:—If the rail rate on the principal raw material of 196 loaves is 60 cents, what portion of it is paid by the consumer of half a loaf. The hotel pays five cents or 80 per cent, but may charge him twice or three times that much for half a one. In any event it is evident that the rail rate constitutes the merest fraction of the first cost of the bread. That a barrel of flour should be carried 1300 miles for 60 cents is, if one comes to think of it, nothing short of wonderful. In Eastern Canada it costs 25 cents or thereabouts to move a barrel by horse and wagon from the railway station to the nearest house in town.

The bacon is brought to Ottawa from Toronto and the Canadian Pacific rate for car-load lots is 20 cents per 100 pounds. The butter and eggs come from Smith's Falls and the rate for less than car-load lots is 15 and 19 cents per 100 pounds respectively. We need not trouble ourselves about the coffee.

Bacon retails in Ottawa just now for 25 and butter for 30 cents per pound, and eggs for 30 cents per dozen. Once more, therefore, the rail rate is a wholly insignificant factor in the composition of the price, and consequently in the Westerner's hotel bill.

Here, however, we see the beneficent working of the principle of charging what the traffic will bear, which he says is an outrageous principle because it means that the railways must let the settler for all he can pay and live. In reality it means quite the opposite. The bacon, butter and eggs pay a higher rate by a good deal in proportion to length of haul than the flour, in order that the flour may be shipped from Manitoba to distant markets and leave the miller and the farmer a tolerably good profit. But for this system the Canadian West would still be to a great extent a desert place.

Dragged Down by Asthma.—The man or woman who is continually subject to asthma is unfitted for his or her life's work. Strength departs and energy is taken away until life becomes a dreary existence. And yet this is needless. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought a great change to an army of sufferers. It relieves the restricted air tubes and guards against future trouble. Try it.

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows

The Other Half
The parish tea was over, and the curate stood up to say a few words to the recipients before they dispersed. He spoke in eloquent terms of the impecuniosity of curates in general and then went on to say, in apparently touching tones: Why, even as I stand before you now I have only half a shirt on my back.

A few days later the reverend gentleman received a parcel containing half-a-dozen new shirts, accompanied by a card bearing the name of one of his fair (though, alas! no longer young) parishioners. At the earliest opportunity he called upon the lady, and thanked her for the gift, and then proceeded to ask what had prompted the kind action.

Why? she replied, you told us the other night that you had only half a shirt to your back.

True, he answered, but the other half was in front.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, &c.

Making it Up
What? shrieked the visitor, in an indignant voice. You're going to charge me five shillings for that poky little room I had last night? It's preposterous.

Well, sir, replied the landlady, that's our charge, and I cannot alter it.

The visitor nearly burst himself with wrath.

Anyhow, I refuse to pay it, he went on. Especially as I didn't get a wink of sleep last night. I was walking up and down the whole time with raging toothache.

The landlady smiled, as only landladies can smile.

In that case, sir, she said, I must charge you an extra shilling for wear of the carpet.

Trying a case over the telephone is the novel method adopted by a New York coroner in order to save time. Mr. Hollenstein, a coroner, took the evidence of witnesses, listened to arguments and gave his decision without leaving his study chair.

A REMARKABLE MIGRATION

The migration of the goose from the North to the South, and again back from the South to the North, is one of the mysteries of nature which has not yet been explained, but the big annual excursion migration of Western Canadians to Great Britain, Eastern Canada and the United States is more easily explained.

The migration is looked forward to by all the big railroads interested in the traffic. It was started 25 years ago and has been growing in volume yearly since.

Hosts of passenger traffic solicitors from the railroads in the United States and Canada invade Western Canada at this time of year to point out the undoubted advantages of their lines with sure and certain conviction that their revenues will be boosted.

This year the Canadian Northern Railway is helping the migration by strong arguments put up in dainty booklets, distributed by their agents. These booklets contain full information regarding the very low fares to Eastern Canada and England, when and where tickets may be purchased, details of time tables and choice of routes.

DISTRESS FROM INDIGESTION

TRIED IN VAIN TO GET A CURE—
ALL MEDICINES FAILED

Ald Trouble Disappeared When the Liver and Bowels Were Set Right by

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You cannot make a greater mistake than to think that indigestion is confined to the stomach. It is a disease of the liver and bowels, and it is only by getting these organs healthy and active that you can ever hope to cure chronic indigestion.

Here are two cases reported by Mr. Skinner which will tell of continued failure to cure indigestion by dosing the stomach. Both were cured thoroughly by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. A. C. Skinner, Atlantic St., Hardwoodhill, Sydney, C.B., writes: "My wife was troubled with indigestion and tried all sorts of medicines in vain. Hearing about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I got her to try them, and to our great delight she was cured. We would not think of being without them in the house for use when the liver and bowels became sluggish."

"I told a friend about them and gave him a box. He had suffered from indigestion for years and tried most everything he could get. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were also successful in his case, and he says they beat any medicine he ever came across."

Willie's Deal

Willie had a yellow dog that was a perfect nuisance, but so devoted was the boy to him that he could not be persuaded to have him killed. One day when his father had been unusually annoyed by the antics of the dog he called Willie in from play and said:—

My boy, I'll give you a sovereign if you get rid of that dog.

Willie's face expressed great amazement at the thought of so much money belonging to him. He looked long at the dog, and finally told his father he would give him his decision the next day.

The following day Willie sought his father and said:—

I've got rid of Max, father. I'm more than glad, Willie, said the father. Here's your money; you've earned it. How did you get rid of him?

Why, answered Willie, as he put the money in his pocket, I swapped him to Bill Morgan for two yellow pups.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

Superstitious people in France are worried by the new method of counting the hours. Trains which start at 1 p.m. (now thirteen o'clock) are much less crowded than others, especially on Fridays. It is curious how the superstition of thirteen persists. Massenet never dated his letters on the fatal day. Even his manuscripts he numbered thus: 12, 12 bis, 14. By a strange coincidence or fatality the great composer died on the thirteenth of the month in a year whose figure added up amount to thirteen.

Little Mr. Spinks was an excellent man of business, and fairly prosperous in a modest way, but he lacked artistic talents.

His better half, on the other hand, was well-known among a certain literary and artistic set as being a remarkably brilliant woman, and one with great powers of entertaining.

It chanced that both Mr. and Mrs. Spinks were inadvertently asked to a large party together—a Bohemian gathering, which was not quite in the little man's line. During the course of the evening his wife sang, and the richness of her voice attracted a well-known man who happened to be present.

He asked to be introduced to her. This was done by the hostess, but in about five minutes after effecting the introduction she hurried up, and carried Mrs. Spinks off again, telling the discomfited stranger that he must not monopolize the celebrated woman.

But I'll introduce you to Mr. Spinks, she added, by way of consolation. Mr. Spinks! ejaculated the great one. Never heard of him. He's a stranger, isn't he? What's he famous for?

INDUSTRIES IN THE WEST

A Great Home Market for the Factory Products

Eastern Canada is stronger industrially than the West, but the West is taking on importance in an industrial way and will not any longer be content to hide its industrial light under a bushel. Out of the wonderful growth and prosperity of the West, there has sprung a great home market for the factory products of the country to which are added millions of dollars worth of imported goods each year. Fostered by this market and its great growth from year to year, the industrial development of Canada has been almost as remarkable as the building up of the West.

Western Population

The following table, compiled from the Dominion records, shows some striking facts:

	Pop. 1901	Pop. 1911
Alberta	73,022	372,419
British Columbia	178,657	342,712
Manitoba	255,211	454,691
Saskatchewan	91,279	453,121

This is a total increase of 174 per cent.

RHODES MEMORIAL ON A MOUNTAIN

Temple Built on the Site he Chose as a Preserve for Lions

The memorial erected to Cecil Rhodes on the slopes of Table Mountain is both magnificent and fitting. The site was always a favorite one with Rhodes, who believed that the view from the eastern spur of the mountain exceeded any other prospect of the world for beauty. He made a broad road to it and placed a seat there. From it a very fine view is obtained of Table Bay in the Atlantic to the north and of False Bay in the Indian Ocean to the south, as well as the Cape Peninsula and the distant mountain ranges stretching for 100 miles to the east and north.

Not far from this seat it was his intention as he lived to build a great temple, as he called it, the object of which was twofold. He intended to make a huge enclosure for his lions, in order that they might be housed with the greatest possible freedom and amid natural and beautiful surroundings. The idea in his mind was that the lions, enjoying a large range of liberty and magnificently housed, would attract people to the mountain side, where art and nature together at their best must lift them out of themselves and inspire them with lofty thoughts.

Remembering that such had been Rhodes' imaginings on the mountain side, the memorial committee decided that the best form for the monument would be a temple dedicated to himself.

The monument has been built of the granite which forms the natural base of Table Mountain and has been worked to a texture which is not so fine as to be out of scale or harmony with its mountainous surroundings.

In front of the monument is the statue, "Physical Energy," by F. Watts, R.A., representing a man reining in his horse after some great deed and scanning the future for his next achievement. It was not designed by Watts, especially for Rhodes or his monument, but was presented as a gift to South Africa out of admiration for the genius of Cecil Rhodes.

Suggestions were made to place it elsewhere. But it was Rhodes' dream to make the Cape Peninsula the centre of art and beauty in South Africa. It seemed natural, therefore, that this gift of the greatest of English artists should be placed in Rhodes' monument on Table Mountain.

The eight lions, four on either side of the long flight of steps leading up to the portico, are the work of the late J. M. Swan, R.A.

THE HOME RULE BILL

Great Secrecy Observed in Printing Last One Introduced

In connection with the new Home Rule bill, it is interesting to recall the measures taken for the printing of the rough draft of the bill of 1893, and the care taken to ensure secrecy. The draft copy was cut up so minutely that each compositor at the offices got only three lines to "set," so that he could not form even the haziest notions as to what the bill proposed to establish in Ireland. The duty of arranging the numerous lines of type in the consecutive order as committed to the printers in the establishment and where a dozen copies had been printed for the use of the Cabinet had the over-seer had the type immediately broken up and distributed. Before the Cabinet, however, had concluded their deliberations on the bill a copy was found on a writing-table in the library of the Reform Club, but the finder returned it to the absent-minded Minister who, it transpired, had left it there after writing a letter.

HOME INDUSTRY

How It Has Been Injured in the of Wool Manufacture

"Canada an example and a warning" is the subject of a pamphlet Thomas O. Martin, of the Textile Club, Boston. He says wool manufactured in the of Canada is as old as the world. It should be as properly tried as it is in the of the entire production of mills is less than 10 American country three of the inhabitants "minion," he said, "in foreign lands is one in ten of the of He then proceeds to this extraordinary years ago the country tically on an equal great branch of textile was concerned. The had been managed with and ability. There has been of capital or of skilled Many of these capitalists or owners, finally despairing of success in Canada had moved to the United States and there had become successful manufacturers. So, too, with the operators. A considerable proportion of the best spinners, weavers and dyers in American mills to-day had found their way to these mills by way of Canada.

In 1861, an adequate protective tariff in which wool and its manufactures were included, was enacted for the American people by their government, and under this policy the aggregate value of American wool products increased from $73,454,000 in 1860 to $507,219,000 in 1910. Under a policy of late years of inadequate protection, however, the wool manufacture of Canada had entirely failed to increase but was actually decreasing, as witness the large number of mills that had closed. The sheep themselves were disappearing. While there were 3,155,000 sheep in Canada in 1871, there were only 2,106,000 in 1910, while in the United States on the other hand, the number had grown from 27,286,000 to 41,999,000.

"In other words," says Mr. Marvin, "inadequate protection robs Canada of a great natural industry once strong and prosperous and has made Canada the best outside customer of the great manufacturing clothiers of the United States."

MACHINERY IN THE WEST

Canadian Makers are Waking up to the "Tractor" Trade

Fully five thousand tractors are used on farms in Western Canada whereas seven years ago there were only eight of this class of implement in the West.

"Where do you buy your engines?" a farmer in Saskatchewan was asked. "Nearly all of them come from the States. The most popular tractor from Indiana," he replied. "Very few are made in Canada just now, but I believe the three firms who do make them are preparing to get a larger share of this big market out here," he continued. "This season the Canadian factories supplied some 250 engines out of the 2,500 that were absorbed by the Western market."

Harry hurried to the corner of the room in which he had last seen Lillas Morgan. He found her kneeling on the floor, with her hands clasped behind her head, almost insensible with nervous fear.

In his gentle anxiety over her he barely listened to the parting speech of Reuben as he, too, halted by the door, before leaving the room.

There's something wrong here, he said slowly, something mysterious, some ugly secret. I don't know whether you are in it or not, Mr. Harry Worth, but I mean to find out what it is!

CHAPTER XXXV
The Ruins at Night

Two hours later there was peace after the storm.

In the Abbey dining-room, panelled throughout with dark oak and hung with tapestry, wax candles under red shades fixed in massive silver candlesticks shed a soft light on the faces of Lady Anne and her two guests as they sat at table.

In the distance the thunder still roared fitfully, but the blinds were down, the shutters drawn and even Lillas, now that she could no longer see the lightning flash around her, recovered her usual high spirits and gaiety.

Lady Anne had sent off a telegram to Denzil Warne to inform him that she was keeping his niece at the Abbey for the night, as she could not send her back through the storm. She could hardly do less than invite the girl, who for over an hour after the departure of Reuben remained in a state of collapse, shivering and moaning at each fresh lightning flash and at each outbreak of thunder. But, in truth, Lady Anne was glad to have her, and still more glad of the society of Harry, whom she had begged to remain to dinner.

She did not want to be alone that evening. Both Harry and Lillas were tactful; they avoided in their talk all reference to the strange happenings of the afternoon, and it was Lady Anne herself who forced some sort of an explanation upon them.

You must have been much surprised to see your aunt, Mr. Clavel, she observed suddenly, during dinner.

Harry looked at her a moment before answering.

She sat at the head of the table, between him and Lillas, in a great chair of carved oak. She had donned, in honor of her visitors, a skirt of satin and a blouse of creamy lace, a little open at the neck and sleeves. She was too beautiful to be jealous of other women, and she had insisted upon dressing up Lillas, as she expressed it, in a lace dinner jacket, which, although it hung loosely upon the young girl's slender frame, proved

Pimples So Bad
He Was AshamedTried Everything but Did It No Good.
One Box of Cuticura Ointment Took Pimples Away.

"About seven years ago pimples broke out all over my face and neck. When they would first come they would be big and red, then after a while they would turn white, and matter would come out. Sometimes they would itch so I could hardly sleep. I was ashamed to go down street. My face looked so bad. I went to several doctors and got medicine, which did me no good, and bought ointment, salves and patent medicines, but none of them would cure my face and neck. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Ointment. I got one box, and it took the pimples away before I had it all used up. I can say it is a wonderful remedy. Any sufferer who has pimples should use Cuticura Ointment if they want a sure cure. I never had any soap equal to Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Aylmer Mathers, Parkhill, Ont., Dec. 24, 1910.

Sores All Over Baby's Body

"When my baby boy was six months old, his body was completely covered with large sores that seemed to itch and burn, and caused terrible suffering. The eruption began in pimples which would open and run, making large sores. His hair came out and finger nails fell off, and the sores were over the entire body, causing little or no sleep for baby or myself. Great relief would come off when I removed his shirt. We tried a great many remedies but nothing would help him, till a friend induced me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment but a short time before I could see that he was improving, and in six weeks time he was entirely cured. He had suffered about six weeks before we tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, although we had tried several other things and doctors too. I think the Cuticura Remedies will do all that is claimed for them, and a great deal more." (Signed) Mrs. Noble, Tumbler, Dodsburg, Mont., Jan. 22, 1911.

very becoming, with the addition of a cluster of red roses near her throat. Harry felt as if he had gone back to the old social life at New York, as he found himself again before a perfectly served dinner in the presence of two lovely well-dressed women, listening to their musical voices, and letting his eyes rest with pleasure upon the silver and crystal, the daintily arranged fruit and flowers, and the soft light falling on delicate features, fair skins, and creamy lace.

It was better than lonely dinners of cold beef and cheese, good enough as they might be by the light of an oil lamp at the Manor Farm. It was better, too, in his opinion, than the costly and extravagant meals, the high-voiced society chatter, and the trivial topics of the hour at his mother's establishments and at those of her chief friends and acquaintances.

This was the life he wanted, a quiet life of dignified happiness, and with all his soul he longed for it, with Lady Anne as his companion and wife.

To tell the truth, he said, in answer to her question, I never knew I had an aunt. I imagined that she had been dead some years.

She did not die, although she wanted to, poor lady. She is deeply religious; I am afraid there is a touch of fanaticism about it, but I cannot interfere of course. Lady Clavel spends hours, days even, upon her knees, and watches, prays, and fasts until I fear for her health and her reason.

Is she sane, then? Lillas asked quickly.

Lady Anne looked at her and paused a moment before answering.

Is anyone who is possessed by an overmastering idea sane? she asked. Why do you ask?

She spoke so strangely, Lillas replied. I was almost too frightened to follow her words. But they were odd, were they not?

She leads an unnatural life, said Lady Anne. Since I begged her to live here with me seven years ago, she has never gone outside the Abbey walls, hardly ever even beyond the chapel. She will allow no one to call her by her name. She insists upon doing all the work in her rooms which are fitted up like convent cells and will hardly allow the baronet's food to be brought to her. Yet she was a lady of a very old Spanish family, among the proudest of the grandee class, and she had a small private income, which is rare enough in Spain. She spends it all upon the chapel and through Father Carey upon the poor, and if one allowed her she would dress in rags.

Surely, Harry observed, it would be better for the poor lady if she lived with you like a rational human being.

Lady Anne shook her head. That would not suit her notions of atonement, she said. Of course, I could explain nothing to that objectionable young man, but to Lady Clavel those old stories about the Abbot's curse are terrible realities, the most important things in life. She believes that all the misfortunes which came upon her husband's family are the necessary result of their having stolen the monk's property hundreds of years ago, and she will know no peace until the Church takes back its own again.

But I think all that is desperately interesting, Lillas remarked, her hazel eyes alight with sympathetic excitement. My uncle told me once he believed Lady Clavel was still alive, but he does not know she is here.

Please do not speak of it to him.

Certainly I won't. I am glad she has her old Spanish servant with her. Maria is nearly as fanatical as her mistress, Lady Anne said, and nearly as silent too. But she is a splendid worker and perfectly loyal.

Are all your servants Catholics?

George Anning is not, Lady Anne replied, nor are the women at the lodge.

Miss Jessop aired her religious views to me on one occasion, Harry remarked. She was objecting strongly to Father Carey teaching her nephew to read.

The child is to be brought up a Catholic, Lady Anne said in a tone which had suddenly become cold and reserved. It is the wish of Lady Clavel and of old Stephen Jessop.

Is that the darling little boy at the lodge? Lillas inquired, undeterred by her hostess' forbidding manner. He looks too sweet to be a Jessop.

They are a good-looking family, Lady Anne said indifferently. But the child is spoilt.

I know who spoils him, Lillas cried gaily. Have you heard of the colossal horse and cart Mr. Clavel has given him?

Have you indeed? Lady Anne asked as she turned to Harry. What can you possibly see in the child?

I am afraid you don't like Edwin much, Lady Anne, the young man said flushing a little, but I find him a splendid little fellow, as clever and naturally well-bred as he is handsome. A little too full of imagination for such a baby, but that's the air of Lodgers Abbey, I think.

More Boy Wanted

The little mother was distracted. Really, Tommy, she cried, that's the very last piece of cake you must have now. Don't disobey me.

But Tommy's objections to this severe sentence were pithy and to the point.

Why? bellowed the greedy little boy. His mother looked over at him wearily.

For just this reason, she replied: There once lived a little boy exactly like you, who went on eating cake, till one day he burst. And his death was caused by eating too much cake. Tommy.

The youthful scion of the house pondered this while holding the remaining crumbs on his plate; then— I don't believe a little boy could eat too much cake, he remarked serenely.

But, darling, said the tired little mother, he must have done, because he burst.

Ugh! cried her promising youngster scornfully. It wasn't that there was too much cake—there wasn't enough boy! And he stretched over for another piece.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH CURE. Send for circular, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Yes, mused the thoughtful thinker, it's a sure sign.

What's a sure sign? was asked. That when a young man begins to know that he doesn't know as much as he thinks he knows, then he begins to know something.

Lazy, or Not Lazy

A lawsuit was recently in full swing and during its progress a witness was cross-examined as to the habits and character of the defendant.

Has Mr. M.—a reputation for being abnormally lazy? asked counsel briskly.

Well, sir, it's this way—

Will you kindly answer the question asked? struck in the irascible lawyer.

Well, sir, I was going to say it's this way. I don't want to do the gentleman in question any injustice. And I won't go as far as to say, sir, that he's lazy exactly; but if it required any voluntary work on his part to digest his food—why, he'd die from lack of nourishment, sir.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper

An umbrella made thief-proof by being locked in such a manner that it cannot be opened has been invented by a London cloak-room attendant. The locking device consists of a metal collar one end of which may be slipped down over the rib tips, and is securely locked to them by revolving the three metal rings. These rings bear the letters and numerals of the secret combination.

A Ready Weapon Against Pain.

There is nothing equal to Dr. Thompson's Electric Oil when well rubbed in. It penetrates the tissues and pain disappears before it. There is no known preparation that will reach the spot quicker than this magic Oil. In consequence it ranks first among liniments now offered to the public and is accorded first place among all its competitors.

More About
The Loading Platform

The present generation of Western farmers will never know the difficulties and vexations experienced by their predecessors in the earlier years when no one could get a carload of grain shipped in bulk except by loading it through an elevator. The system forced the majority of farmers to sell their grain to the elevator owners at arbitrary prices, and oft times to submit to heavy dockage and other annoyances, causing continual dissatisfaction. Now, however, the distribution of cars as fixed by the Grain Act and the use of the loading platform, provide facilities which enable the farmer to secure satisfactory treatment in the disposal of his grain, and the highest market prices at time of sale. Every farmer therefore, should more and more endeavor to use the loading platform in shipping his grain to the terminal elevators. It is the safeguard of the farmer's freedom in disposing of his grain to the best advantage for himself. If farmers refrain from using the loading platform freely, it might result in its being done away with, because railway companies and elevator owners are strongly opposed to it. It is easy to understand why elevator people desire the loading platform abolished. The railway people on their part say it delays the loading of cars and helps to ensure car shortage. This we know to be nonsense, because frequently after cars are loaded, whether with grain, coal, lumber, or other merchandise, they are sidetracked for days and even weeks instead of being promptly moved forward to destination. It is engine shortage and shortage of competent train men that mostly causes grain blockades on railways and not lack of cars. Let every farmer therefore, do all he can to use the loading platform and become an independent shipper. In subsequent advertisements we will state in detail the savings and other advantages of direct loading into cars compared with loading through elevators.

We handle the farmers' grain strictly on commission, make liberal advances on car bills of lading, supervise the grading at time cars are inspected, secure the highest prices at time of sale and make prompt returns when sold. Write us for shipping instructions and market information.

Use of Tongues

A sage and reverend gentleman was examining a small school. In the course of the examination the particulars of the five senses presented themselves. Now, children, what is the ear the organ of? the examiner asked.

Hearing, was answered by many.

What is the eye for?

Seeing.

And the nose?

Smelling.

And the tongue?

No answer.

Come now, said the examiner, in a kindly voice, what do you say the tongue is for?

For puttin' out!

HAVE FAITH IN ROAD

GREAT SUCCESS FOR H.B. LINE IS PREDICTED

Retired H.B. Factor Gives his Opinion of the Possibilities of the Road, and Railway Contractors say Road Will be Easier to Build Than C.P.R.

Le Pas, Man.—G. Halerow, retired factor of the Hudson's Bay Co., who has resided for 43 years in this district, has lived for eight years at Hudson Bay and travelled through the straits several times, at the settlers' banquet, ridiculed the statement made by eastern papers and other interests that navigation there is impossible for the greater part of the year. In his opinion, and judging from personal observations, he believes that navigation can be kept open for eight months of the year.

In an interview N. K. Boyd, of McArthur & Boyd, who have the contract for the Hudson Bay railway, made the statement that were it not that the bridge over the Saskatchewan is not completed they would have been in a position to lay steel on the road as far as Cormorant Lake this fall. They now have 150,000 ties out and have arrangements completed for 500,000 more to be cut this winter, they have a ten foot sleigh road cut from mile 70 to mile 100 and expect to have it extended by Christmas as far as Thick-t Portage, and as far as the Manitou Rapids on the Nelson by spring.

J. P. Gordon, assistant to Chief Engineer Armstrong of the Hudson Bay railway, who was with Hon. Frank Cochrane on his trip through Hudson Bay last summer, made the statement that as far as ice was concerned there could be no trouble. The ministerial party had found none in Hudson Straits and on the coast of Labrador the straits of Belle Isle were the only places where any had been found. The government steamer Minto is to stop at Port Nelson to the end of November.

Mr. Boyd, of McArthur & Boyd, contractors for the whole of the Hudson Bay railway was also present, having just returned from an inspection of the line in company with Assistant Engineer Gordon. In his opinion the Hudson Bay road will be much easier to build than was the C.P.R., and no doubt should be as great a success as the C.P.R.

G. R. Bancroft, who has mining interests north of Le Pas, said he believes that the possibilities in minerals in New Manitoba were great.

Norway Has Rumor of Anglo-German Crisis

Chicago.—A cablegram from Bergen, Norway, to a Chicago newspaper, under date of Oct. 22, says:

Confidential information has been received by leading ship brokers here from influential firms in England, that a clash between Germany and England is imminent. The Norwegians are urged to charter steamers with coal and grain for use in the coming winter. Coal is indispensable and as for grain if importation were stopped for eight weeks, famine would result.

It is declared by these alarms that a naval conflict between Germany and England may occur off Norway, and in that case the belligerents would be tempted to seize a port, say Christiania or Bergen, and use it as a base of operations, and for repairing and refitting. It is necessary, according to this view of the possibilities that Norway be supplied with special stores of coal and food and otherwise prepared to enforce its neutrality.

Preventing Mine Disasters

Berlin.—The German Emperor is giving his closest personal attention to the prevention of mine disasters and hopes by means of chemistry to find a practicable safety device. In a speech he delivered at the dedication of the chemical institute of the Emperor William Scientific Foundation, he explained that his idea contemplated a harmless chemical compound a change in which would warn miners plainly of the danger of fire damp. The emperor was said to have applied to the technical schools of Germany for suggestions in this direction after the mine disaster at Bochum, on August 8, when 103 men were killed. He has now repeated his request to the leading German scientists.

Duke's Term to be Extended

London.—According to the terms of his appointment, the Duke of Connaught should complete his term of office as Governor-General of Canada next year.

It is slightly probable, however, that unless something unforeseen takes place, the appointment will be extended for another two years or so. Should this be the case, the duke will not leave the Dominion until he concludes his service there, but the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia are expected to be in England next year for a few weeks.

The Duke is anxious that the Prince of Wales and Prince Albert should visit Canada while he is in office, and the matter is receiving the consideration of the King.

Earthquake in Quebec

Quebec.—News has been received here that a severe earthquake shock was felt between Berthia and Pentecost, on the north shore of the river St. Lawrence. No fatalities are reported, but several houses were badly shaken, and all the residents between both places received quite a scare.

YOUNGEST LORD MAYOR

For First Time of City's History Jew

Is Chosen as Chief Executive
London.—One of the youngest in the long line of English lord mayors will be Arthur Michael Samuel, who at the age of 35 has been elected lord mayor of the city of Norwich for next year. Incidentally he will be the first Jew who has ever been chief magistrate of the city.

Despite the fact that the Samuel family is one of the oldest families settled in East Angles, having first come over with Robert of Normandy as artificers in metal and armor makers, this has not saved them from persecution in past centuries.

Norwich was the scene of a famous ritual murder accusation against the Jews—a form of persecution which even now occasionally crops up in Russia.

The compliment which the city now pays to Mr. Samuel forms a striking comparison to the treatment it meted out to some of his ancestors. One of them, Aaron Samuel, a worthy citizen of Norwich, was burned to death in the hog market of the city during the persecutions of the middle ages.

When the religious persecutions died away, the members of the Samuel family took an active part in the administration of the city's affairs. Gradually their star rose, until an uncle of Mr. Samuel became sheriff of the city. Now his nephew has sealed the triumph of popularity over persecutions by becoming its first citizen.

Mr. Samuel has contested the Stretford division of Lancashire three times in the Unionist cause, and is a keen tariff reformer. He is also an authority on subjects so diverse as etchings and foreign bills of exchange. He is the author of a fine book on Piranesi, the Italian etcher, and he is also a director of the Apollinaris Company.

CHOOSE MODEL FARMS

Commission of Conservation Has Selected 28 in the Dominion

Ottawa.—The commission of conservation has selected 28 model farms throughout Canada for purposes of illustration, and next summer the commission's agricultural experts will supervise demonstration and lecture work on the best methods for gaining the greatest possible returns from the soil while at the same time conserving its richness.

These farms are neither purchased nor leased; they have simply been chosen by the commission for illustrative purposes by courtesy of their owners, and are provided as free demonstration grounds for districts surrounding them, the owner operating them as formerly.

In Manitoba there are three, in Saskatchewan one, in Alberta two, in Ontario eight, in Quebec four, in New Brunswick four and in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island three each, no provision having yet been made in British Columbia.

In Manitoba the farms chosen are those of Jarvis Jickling, of Morden; J. B. Lyon of Carberry and Charles Penny of Hamiota.

In Saskatchewan the farm of D. Lang of Indian Head is the only one yet chosen, while in Alberta that of James A. Sutherland, of Nanton, and G. H. Jaurnick of Stavely are the choice so far.

F. G. Munnick, agriculturalist of the commission, and John Fister, former farm superintendent of MacDonald college, are responsible for the choice and will superintend the demonstration work.

WOMEN JOCKEYS IN RACE

Six Compete and Two Lead From Start to Finish

Paris.—The most attractive event in a race meeting at Clairfontaine, in the department of Orne, was a flat race for women jockeys on hunters over a distance of nine furlongs. This event, the first of its kind in France, brought out a field of six of the best known women in the district, and there was a large attendance to see the race.

Those who entered were the comtesse D'Iderville, Baronne La Caze, Mme. Felix Petit, Mme. Garin, Mme. Joanne de la Palme, and Mme. Bonafonds.

Mme. de la Palme, on her thoroughbred Boulangerie, led from the start and keeping close to the rails, made the pace all the way. Starting home she was challenged by Mme. Bonafonds, and a spirited finish was the result. The starter gallantly dispensed with the formality of weighing in.

REAL STAGE FIGHT

Knives are Drawn in Earnest, and Police Have to Stop Conflict

Paris.—A stage conflict, intended to form the subject of a cinematograph film at an establishment in the Rue de Malte, took an unexpected turn.

Two rival bands of youths were engaged in a combat, when one youth used his fists with exaggerated vigor. His adversary retaliated, and in a moment the fight was proceeding in deadly earnest. Knives were drawn and the combat was only stopped by the arrival of the police. During the fight two supers were badly cut.

Ottawa.—The Railway Commission has decided to make a western trip in November, as soon as the freight rate and telegraph toll enquiries are over. It will probably be the end of the month before they can get away. They may take evidence in the freight case in the western states.

ALLIES MEET SUCCESS

TURKISH TROOPS ARE REPELLED IN MANY PLACES

Victories of the Allied Forces Against the Turks Still Continue, Although in Many Instances Victory has Been Purchased by Heavy Sacrifice.

London.—A considerable number of Bulgarian troops have been detached from the second army corps for the purpose of repelling any further attacks by the Turkish forces on the towns of the Black Sea coast, says a Sofia dispatch to the Times.

There is reason to believe, the dispatch adds, that an accident which occurred recently on the Smyrna Adana railroad resulting in the death of 200 Turkish soldiers, was the work of the Macedonia emissaries, sent to Asia Minor to impede the dispatch of the Asiatic troops to European Turkey.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Times, referring to the fighting in the Adrianople district, says it appears to be the intention of the Turks to fight in a position of their own choosing, on their own soil, with the ambitious hope that the issue will enable them to change a successful defensive into an overwhelming offensive action.

Belgrade.—The capture of Novipazar by Gen. Jankovitch was preceded by three days desperate fighting, the Turks holding strongly fortified positions.

Gen. Zovokitch reports that the Serbian losses in the capture of Pristina were extraordinarily large, but that the Turkish losses were still greater. Some alarm is felt here lest the supply of cartridges should run out. The factory at Makriko is working day and night but can produce only a quarter of a million daily—quite insufficient for the troops engaged.

London.—The news from the seat of war tells of the continuous success of the allies. The Serbians have captured Novipazar and are the virtual masters of Kumanova. The victories, however, have been purchased at heavy sacrifices.

The situation in Thrace is becoming clearer. A great battle is being fought over a wide semi circle from before Adrianople, upon which town the Bulgarians are gradually closing in. On the east they have occupied Vasilika and Tirmovo and are continuing their advance southward.

On the west the Bulgarians have reached the Arda River, close to Adrianople which is being vigorously bombarded. Already the two outer forts have fallen. Some positions to the north of Adrianople are also said to have been taken after fighting of the severest character.

Death Penalty for General Diaz

Mexico City.—Gen. Diaz, Col. Orozco and all the officers of the rebellious troops and marines will be haled before a court martial and will doubtless suffer the death penalty. Orders have been issued for the convening of the court which will be presided over by Gen. Beltran.

Gen. Diaz, although not now a member of the army, is amenable to such court under the law which provides for such trial of any civilian under like conditions.

The soldiers of the rebellious troops will be decimated—one in ten being executed, they being chosen by lot to pay the penalty for all.

The collapse of the Diaz movement one week after its inception with a minimum of fighting and bloodshed, has created the greatest surprise here. In administration circles where optimism has been the keynote since the beginning, the outcome is regarded as the highest possible vindication of the confidence always expressed in the loyalty of the army.

ASLEEP IN FACE OF DEATH

Motorboat Chase to Save Fisherman From Breakers

Belfast.—Found fast asleep in a small sailing boat, a lobster fisherman, named Breen, has just been rescued when within fifty yards of almost certain death.

It is to the prompt action of James Nelson, a ferryman, that Breen owes his rescue. Nelson saw the sailing boat drifting helplessly toward Strandford lough, County Down, where the tide ebbs at a speed of twenty miles an hour.

Seeing the heavy breakers big enough to swamp a large schooner, Nelson promptly went in pursuit in a motorboat, and reached the sailing boat when it was within fifty yards of the breakers. Breen was found fast asleep in his boat, and was safely towed to Portaferry.

Sample Market Authorized

Ottawa.—An order in council was passed by the Council today, authorizing the establishment of a sample grain market at Winnipeg and Port William as provided by the Canada Grain Act passed last session.

The establishment of these grain markets was recommended by the Grain Commission.

New Parks Commissioner

Edmonton.—The newly appointed commissioner of Dominion Parks, P. C. Barnard Hervey, of Calgary, has arrived in Edmonton to assume his new duties.

London.—Regarding the report from Ottawa published in Montreal, Lord Roberts tells the Canadian Associated Press that he has made no arrangements to visit Canada.

INDIANS HOLDING OWN

Native Population of Canada Shows Increase for Past Year

Ottawa.—The total Indian population of the Dominion on March 31, 1912, was 104,956, according to the annual report of the superintendent of Indian affairs, issued. In addition there are 4,600 Eskimos within the confines of Canada, making a native population of 109,556. This is practically the same as for the previous year, there being an increase of only a few hundreds.

The general health of the Indians for the year is reported as good, being confined to outbreaks of measles on several reserves in Quebec and the west. Grippe was also somewhat prevalent among the redmen, but the number of fatal cases was small. It is noted that tuberculosis continues to prevail and will continue to do so until there is a wider acceptance by the Indians of the information given them on the measures necessary for the prevention of the disease.

It is noted that the efforts of the department to have the Indians engage in agricultural pursuits is meeting with gratifying success. There has been a considerable increase in the amount of land brought under cultivation as compared with the previous year.

It will perhaps surprise many people to know that the earnings of the Indians of the Dominion aggregate over $5,000,000. The pursuit of agriculture leads the list with a total of $1,484,347 to its credit. Then the redmen receive $1,616,049 in wages paid by white employers.

There was a total of 325 Indian schools in operation during the year, an increase of only one, as compared with the previous year. The Roman Catholics lead the list with 80 day 38 boarding, and 9 industrial schools, while the Church of England is a good second with 77 day, 13 boarding and 4 industrial schools. The total enrollment for the year was 11,303 pupils, 5,648 boys, and 5,655 girls, a slight increase as compared with 1911.

McBRIDE ON NAVAL POLICY

Canada Should Take Action in Like Manner to Australia and New Zealand

Victoria.—In an address given in his honor at Field, Premier McBride made a strong pronouncement on the naval question. The portals of the empire on the Pacific coast, he said, are easily accessible by a third power and we are doing little or nothing to insure the necessary protection for these shores in the case of European complications. I am strong in the advocacy of immediate and tangible action on behalf of Canada to contribute ships or money to the mother country in like manner to Australia and New Zealand. This is a matter of a national character and should be settled by Canadians as a unit so that, in addition to providing adequate naval defense, we in the Dominion should be placed in a position to render aid in case of the emergency to the mother country and thus help to carry the Union Jack to victory.

Withdrawn From Homestead Entry

Edmonton, Oct. 23.—The commissioner of the department of the interior at Ottawa has telegraphed A. Norquay, Dominion land agent here to withdraw the advertisement announcing that township 89, range 9, west of the fourth meridian, is to be thrown open for homestead entries on November 9.

The commissioner instructs the land agent not to open the Fort McMurray township for entry that day. It appears that the department has not been advised by the surveyor concerning the squatters who have claims upon quarter sections in the township. The affidavits of all these squatters are not yet in the hands of the department. Until they are, homestead entries cannot be filed with certainty.

This is one of the two Fort McMurray townships for which the big rush is expected on November 9.

Uniform Naturalization Law

London.—The question of the anomalies of the naturalization laws was raised in the House of Commons when Sir E. Grey declared that persons naturalized in Canada did not thus become British subjects in the strict sense of the term. They are only naturalized as within the limits of the Dominion. Replying to a further question, Sir Edward Grey said those inequalities had been recognized and a measure will be introduced during the present session which will seek to uniform the law for the whole Empire.

Kaid Belton Resigns

Ottawa.—Kaid Belton, famous for his war exploits in Morocco and for the past year attached to the permanent militia force in Canada, has resigned his position with a view to taking up a business appointment in the United States. Lieut. Belton was appointed by the minister of militia and defense last year to help in the organization of the cadet force in which he took a great interest.

To Protect Coast Fisheries

Ottawa.—Owing to the great increase in poaching on the Pacific Coast by United States, Russian and Japanese, and violation of treaty fishing rights, the Government is providing for greater protection. A contract has just been let by the Marine and Fisheries Department for two fast protective cruisers. They will be built by the Dublin Dockyard Company at a cost of $267,000.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON V.—FOURTH QUARTER FOR NOV. 3, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Mark viii, 11-26.

Memory Verses, 14, 15—Golden Text

John viii, 12 (R.V.)—Commentary

Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Having again crossed the sea after

He had fed the 4,000, the Pharisees and Sadducees came to Him, tempting

Him and asking Him to show them a sign from heaven. He called them

a wicked and adulterous generation and said that no sign would be given unto them, but the sign of the prophet

Jonas (verses 11, 12; Matt. xvi, 1-4).

This was his second reference to Jonah. On the former occasion He spoke of his experience in the belly of the fish and said that so He would be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth (Matt. xii, 12-40).

The Pharisees believed in angels, spirits and the resurrection, but were self-righteous formalists, hypocrites, covetous and did their works to be seen of men.

The Sadducees did not believe in the resurrection (Mark xii, 18). His spirit was grieved because of them, so He left them and again went across the sea with His disciples, having only one loaf in the boat with them, for the disciples forgot to take bread as

He charged them to take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees and of Herod.

They thought that he was referring to their forgetfulness in the matter of bread. What a suggestive lesson for us who are apt to think more of the health of the body than of the health of the soul, careful concerning what we eat and drink, but receiving the most poisonous things for our minds in the way of doctrine and from the daily papers and magazines. How they could think that lack of bread would be at all perplexing to Him whom they had seen feed 5,000 and 4,000 with a few loaves and fishes seems indeed strange, and we do not wonder that He reminded them of these events and said: Having eyes see ye not? And, having ears, hear ye not? And ye do not remember?

How is it that ye do not understand?

(Verses 17-21; Matt. xvi, 8-12). When

He said plainly, I spake not to you concerning bread, then they understood that He referred to the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

In addition to what we said above concerning these two classes of people, it might be added that the Pharisees denied any necessity for Christ's first coming, and the Sadducees denied

His second coming, saying there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit,

nor future rewards and punishments

(Acts xxiii, 8). The leaven of Herod suggests worldliness in every form,

with a bit of religion, for Herod feared

John the Baptist and observed him, and did many things but kept right on in sin and would rather please sinners than do what he knew to be right (Mark vi, 20, 26). Let me again emphasize what I firmly believe—that there is no place in the Bible where heaven ever means anything good, and therefore to speak of anything good as the heaven working is altogether unscriptural. It is easily so seen in our lesson; in the passover story of

Ex. xii, in the sacrifice of Lev. ii,

11; in the thanksgiving offering of

Lev. vii, 12, 13; Amos 4, 5, where they were told that to offer leaven was just like them, and in I Cor. v, 6-8.

Those who think that our Lord meant something good when He said

"The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal till the whole was leavened" (Matt. xiii, 33), should study carefully the four parables of which this is the last and note that our Lord was speaking not of the kingdom when it shall have come

but of this present age of the mysteries of the kingdom (Matt. xiii, 11), while He and it are both rejected and the church is being gathered. Not one of the four parables gives any encouragement to look for a converted world in this age, and the story of the leaven teaches that the woman, the professing church, will thoroughly corrupt her food. Let any one consider the Sunday topics of the majority of preachers of the present day and then say whether the people are getting pure water from the fountain of life or something from the preacher's own mind and not from God.

The conclusion of our lesson, found only in Mark, is the record of His healing a blind man at Bethsaida.

Some one has said that all miracles are acted parables and that all physical infirmities are suggestive, if not actually typical, of spiritual troubles.

All blind people suggest the blindness that holds all who have never seen

Jesus Christ as God, and as the great sacrifice for their sins, whom He calls blind, advising them to anoint their eyes with eye salve that they may see.

Quaint Old Wedding Ideas

Superstition never clustered round any episode of life more than that of the wedding-day, especially in olden times.

Then it was customary for the bride to present her future husband with a bunch of rosemary, tied up with ribbons, on his first appearance on the wedding morning. This was supposed to secure his love and loyalty, and to make her happy for ever.

In Yorkshire the old superstition still abounds that nothing more unlucky could happen than for a newly-made bride to leave the church by a different door from that by which she entered.

Another quaint custom, for which there is no known origin, is that practiced in some of the Midland and Northern counties. This is to ring a merry peal of the church bells at the first reading of the banns of an intended matrimonial couple. It is called the spur peal, which in old Anglo-Saxon means simply "ask."

Of course, it is well known that it is the height of luck for a bride-to-be to dream of fairies the night before the actual ceremony. So much was this idea believed in, that many girls would peruse fairy tales before going to sleep.

SUCCESS OF WINNIPEG PERMANENT EXPOSITION

Industrial Bureau's Big Display of Industries and Natural Resources Attracts Thousands

Community advertising has been adopted so generally throughout West-Canada, that the subject is one of general importance, and methods successfully carried to completion are of absorbing interest to many Western Canadians.

No other city on the American Continent has a finer or better equipped permanent exposition, featuring industries and the Natural Resources of the country, than has the city of Winnipeg. This big permanent and free exposition, conducted under the auspices of the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau, was started last Spring and during the past six months, Commissioner Chas. F. Roland estimates, has been visited by 750,000 people. In addition to the fifty-four exhibitors of local industries, there are now 24 districts of the West, which have secured space and are advertising their communities in this exposition. The places represented at the present time in this handsome and conspicuous edifice on Main Street, are:—Brandon, Man.; Portage la Prairie, Man.; Regina, Sask.; Saltcoats, Sask.; Dauphin, Man.; Melfort, Sask.; Souris, Man.; Yorkton, Sask.; Melita, Man.; Prince Albert, Sask.; Emerson, Man.; Oak Lake, Man.; Camrose, Alta.; Selkirk, Man.; Moose Jaw, Sask.; Birtle, Man.; Lemberg, Sask.; Virden, Man.; Lacombe, Alta.; Swan River Valley, Man.; Vermillion, Alberta; Swift Current, Sask.; Estevan, Sask.; and Battleford, Sask. In addition to these there are handsome and costly exhibits of the Natural Resources of the West, by the Dominion and Manitoba Provincial Governments and the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern railways.

With this splendid representation of farm, forest and mine of the Canadian West, arranged in attractive form in easily accessible and central position in the metropolis of the prairies, its value as a factor in the settlement of the country cannot well be over-estimated, and so popular has the Exposition become as an adjunct to local methods of publicity, that the Industrial Bureau are now completing extensive additions to the floor space. This will accommodate a number of exhibits of "Made in Winnipeg" goods and will provide another opportunity for a limited number of ambitious communities to secure space.

In Winnipeg, the gateway city of the West, all the year round will be found visitors from all parts of the World, in search of opportunity in the many attractive forms this land of promise presents. In the permanent exposition that city has exactly what it needed to arrest the immediate attention of the stranger. Indeed this "temple of opportunities" as it has been called, is usually one of the first places the sight-seer visits in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg's "Temple of Opportunity"

Here the visitor may catch, almost at a glance, a good idea of the sort of city Winnipeg is, and what sort of country lies between the capital of Manitoba and the Rocky Mountains. Here he will obtain information, maps, photographs and actual products of the soil of the district in which he is interested, perhaps thousands of miles away. Specific information may be obtained on enquiry, and the railways represented will show how the district may be reached or a tour of inspection conducted in the best possible way. If such a visitor is interested along industrial lines he has before him ocular demonstrations of what is being done locally and will be told of opportunities offered in his particular line. This sort of investigation, which previously might have taken days, can be conducted with the aid of the Bureau's Exposition and staff in a few hours, and reliable information secured regarding sources of supply and raw material, transportation facilities, freight rates, trade possibilities, and in short, all manner of information pertinent to his enquiry, under one roof and obtainable without effort on his part.

Of course the building has other uses, combining instructive displays of "Made in Winnipeg" goods, museum and art section and numerous meeting places, including a large Convention Hall capable of accommodating 4500 people, and other features of local interest, and it is indeed, becoming the public forum and centre of civic life in Winnipeg.

Here, visitors from Western Canadian points are also made welcome, for it is the belief of the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau that the development and progress of Winnipeg are closely identified with that of the great agricultural West.

Miss Rosy Nohall had just returned from a finishing school, and had evidently fulfilled all that was required of her in the scholastic line.

She and her father were sitting in the dining-room.

That air—remarked her relative. Father, dear, interrupted Rosy. It's vulgar to say that air. You should say that something here, or preferably, just that.

Well, this air—, commenced her father; but he was cut short again. No father, snarled the dutiful daughter. That's just as vulgar. You must avoid such expressions as this 'ere—

Father became irate.

Look here, my girl, said he, I'm going to say what I mean. That air is bad for this ear of mine, and I'm going to shut the window!

And after that Rosy said no more.

No Use

In the telephone office there was one girl who was always late in the morning.

Time and time again the local manager requested her to be more punctual; but her tardiness still continued until he was moved to use desperate methods.

Now, Miss—, said he, as he came to her exchange board one morning carrying a package in his hands, I have a little scheme that I hope will induce you to arrive at the office in time. I have bought this fine alarm clock for you. Please promise me that you will make proper use of it.

The young woman promised, and the first night set the alarm at the required hour for rising the next morning.

At the indicated hour the clock set up a tremendous whirring, loud enough to awaken the whole house. But the sleepy little lassie turned over in bed, and said in her sweetest tone: Line's engaged; please call again.

MOTHERS NEED CONSTANT STRENGTH

To Care for the Growing Family and Her Household Cares

When there is a growing family to care for and the mother falls ill, it is a serious matter. Many mothers who are on the go from morning to night whose work apparently, is never done, heroically try to disguise their sufferings, and keep an appearance of cheerfulness before their family. Only themselves know how they are distressed by headaches and backaches, dragging down pains and nervous weakness; how their nights are often sleepless, and they arise to a new day's work tired, depressed and unfreshed. Such mothers should know that these sufferings are usually due to a lack of good nourishing blood. They should know that the thing above all others they need to give them new health and strength is rich, red blood, and that among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their blood-making, health restoring qualities. Every suffering woman, every woman with a home and family to care for should give these pills a fair trial, for they will keep her in health and strength, and make her work easy. Here is strong proof that these Pills do what is claimed for them. Mrs. Henry Thomas, Dryden, Ont., says: "When my second child was born I was so weak and run down that I could scarcely walk across the room. My baby was small and weak also, and cried and worried night and day until I discovered that the child was starving, as my nurse had turned almost to water. My husband got me a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I began taking them. The first beneficial effects were noticed in that my child began to thrive, as my nurse began to improve, and baby slept better and naturally. It was not long until I began to feel the improvement myself, and I daily gained new strength, and baby was growing very rosy and fat. I continued using the Pills while I was nursing him and found myself with all the vigor of good health, and able to easily do my housework, which had been so great a drag on me before. I am now never without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house, and take an occasional dose when I feel tired. I can strongly recommend these Pills to all nursing women, especially if weak or run down."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Lives lost in connection with the British mercantile marine last year totalled 1,021, of whom only twenty-four were passengers. There were nearly 250,000 women engaged in British merchant ships.

WHAT'S AT THE BOTTOM OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

There are many causes at the bottom of an attack of kidney trouble,—over-eating, over-drinking, heavy colds,—these and other causes often cause illnesses such as kidney trouble, gall-stones, kidney-stones, gravel, lumbago. But no matter what is at the bottom of the disease, there is now a sure and safe cure, one that acts quickly and without fail. That remedy is SANOL, which is already well-known to the medical profession of Canada as well as to thousands of sufferers from the disease named above. One Winnipeg lady who is well and widely known, was cured of Gall-stones by SANOL after suffering for 12 years. So grateful was she, that she has sent to us a large number of people to be relieved of similar complaints. We do not care where the reader of this paragraph resides, we can give him or her names and addresses of people in his own town and locality who have been cured by SANOL. We will also give the name and address of the lady referred to, whose complaint had troubled her for such a long period, and who is now completely cured. SANOL is manufactured only by the SANOL MANUFACTURING COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD., 977 Main Street, Winnipeg. For sale by all druggists or direct from the manufacturers at $1.50 per bottle.

Voted Against Act

The vote to form the west country into a Rural Municipality under the new Act was taken last week but was defeated by four votes. This was not unexpected as a great many of the residents of the three local improvement districts affected considered that the new act is not a benefit to them in a great many ways, and while the Pioneer has done its best to give all the information as to the working of the new Act, possibly the people were not thoroughly posted in this matter.

Will Visit Didsbury

The "Mixed Farming Special" started out from Calgary on Thanksgiving Day at noon for its trip all over the Province. The train consists of nine cars containing horses, cattle, poultry, sheep, grain, grass seeds and everything necessary to show the farmer what can be grown in Alberta. This train is scheduled to visit Didsbury. The date and time can be ascertained by perusing our advertising columns. It will be interesting to visit the train.

A Piece of Bone

Yes, only a piece of petrified bone about 14 inches in circumference at its largest end and about 11 inches at its smallest, 8 inches long, and appearing to be a very small section of a very large bone; found east of the Big Red Deer and reported to be a part of a large skeleton 70 feet in length.

What visions this piece of bone conjures up. It has likely been laying in its bed some hundreds of years (or thousands), perhaps was one of the mammoth water beasts of prehistoric times when this continent was nearly all under water and the top of the Rocky Mountains a line of rocky islands.

This piece of bone was left with us by Constable Sick, who received it from a resident of the east country, and can be seen at our office for a few days.
